Terms and Conditions:

- I understand that I am supporting more than an individual farm. I am also creating opportunity to create a local and sustainable food system.
- I understand that farming is a seasonal and unpredictable undertaking, and that the exact selections and quantities included in the weekly distribution will change as the season progresses.
- I recognize that I am taking on some of the rewards and risks of farming. I can rejoice in the bountiful harvest when conditions are favorable, and may have to come to terms with low crop yields and crop failures due to weather, weeds or pests. I will share the bounty equally with fellow CSA members
- I will keep my crate and return each week in trade for the next basket, and will return at the end of the season.
